

Chiefs Australia Website and Social Media Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy applies to all personal information collected by Chiefs Australia Pty Ltd via the website located at chiefsaustralia.com and our social media pages.

1. What is “personal information”?

- a) The Privacy Act 1988, currently defines “personal information” as meaning information or an opinion about an identified individual or an individual who is reasonably identifiable:
 - i) whether the information or opinion is true or not; and
 - ii) whether the information or opinion is recorded in a material form or not.

- b) If the information does not disclose your identity or enable your identity to be ascertained, it will in most cases not be classified as “personal information” and will not be subject to this privacy policy.

2. What information do we collect?

- a) The kind of personal information that we collect from you will depend on how you use the website and social media pages. The personal information which we collect and hold about you may include name, phone number, email address, website, social media profile, and town or suburb of residence.

3. How we collect your personal information

- a) We may collect personal information from you whenever you input such information into the website or supply it via a messaging or commenting facility on our social media pages.

- b) We also collect cookies from your computer which enable us to tell when you use the website and help to customise your website experience. As a general rule, however, it is not possible to identify you personally from our use of cookies.

4. Purpose of collection.

- a) We collect personal information in order to provide you with the best service experience possible on our website.
- b) We utilise the personal information provided during a social media enquiry to ascertain how to best meet your needs and offer relevant services.
- c) We customarily disclose personal information only to our service providers who assist us in operating our website. Your personal information may also be exposed, from time to time, to maintenance and support personnel acting in the normal course of their duties.
- d) By using our website or providing your personal information via social media, you consent to the receipt of direct marketing material. We will only use your personal information for this purpose if we have collected such information direct from you, and if it is material of a type which you would reasonably expect to receive from us. We do not use sensitive personal information in direct marketing activity. Our direct marketing material will include a simple means by which you can request not to receive further communications of this nature.

5. Access and correction

Australian Privacy Principle 12 permits you to obtain access to the personal information we hold about you in certain circumstances, and Australian Privacy Principle 13 allows you to correct inaccurate personal information subject to certain exceptions. If you would like to obtain such access, please contact us as set out below.

6. Complain procedure

If you have a complaint concerning the manner in which we maintain the privacy of your personal information, please contact us as set out below. All complaints will be considered by Alan Ward and we may seek further information from you to clarify your concerns. If we agree that your complaint is well founded, we will, in consultation with you, take appropriate steps to rectify the problem. If you remain dissatisfied with the outcome, you may refer the matter to the Office of the Australia Information Commissioner.

7. Overseas transfer

Your personal information will not be disclosed to recipients outside Australia unless you expressly request us to do so. If you request us to transfer your personal information to an overseas recipient, the overseas recipient will not be required to comply with the Australia Privacy Principles and we will not be liable for any mishandling of your information in such circumstances.

8. How to contact us about privacy

If you have any queries, or if you seek access to your personal information, or if you have a complaint about our privacy practices, you can contact us via email at:
